March Newsletter

Hooray for spring!!

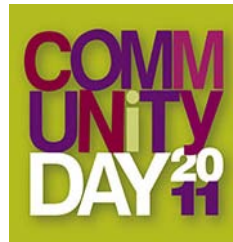

Hopefully we've gotten past all the nasty winter weather at this point and will experience no more cancelled classes for the rest of spring. Please remember that missed weeks will be made up during the weeks following the end of the semester.

If you have any questions regarding our cancellation policy, please talk to your instructor, Amy, or Justine.

Thank you....

The Bon Ton

Thanks to the Bon-Ton, and our scholarship students who sold books and to parents and grandparents and friends who bought books. We were able to raise $210 this month!!

Student Spotlight on....

Your Name Here

There were no nominations for Student Spotlight this month. If you have a student (or are a student) who practices consistently and maintains a B average in school, we'd like to recognize your hard work and dedication. Nominations can be made to Amy Riffle-Kouyeas or Justine Clites in the office. There is a brief questionnaire to fill out and submit. For more information, call (301) 876-1562 or e-mail: tristatearts@gmail.com.

Save the Date!!!

March 26- 10:00am-1:00pm

Make Your Own Storybook
Workshop

Looking for FREE activities for your children? This free drop-in workshop focuses on storytelling for young students and includes opportunities for students to verbally tell stories or tell a story through pictures as well as write a story down. Geared toward elementary school children up to age 16, this workshop will also be relevant for Pre-K and pre-reading/writing students. Story prompts, pencils, crayons, collage materials, and other things to make a story will be on-hand for children to create their own story. No registration is necessary, simply drop-in and create!

The workshop will be taught by our creative writing instructor, Tiffany A. Turbin Santos, who has years of experience in working with children of all ages in a variety of settings. Currently, she is studying poetry for an MFA degree at Carlow University in Pittsburgh and has had work published in several undergraduate literary journals and the Backbone Mountain Review, a regional literary journal. She also teaches developmental writing at Potomac State College. For more information, visit her website: www.cranberryjade.com.

April 2- 9:00am-12:00noon

FSU Spring Piano
Auditions

Come out and support Jen Akers, Matthew Clark, Ben Fiscus, Shawn Fiscus, and Allie McManus as they perform for a three person jury at Frostburg State University's Performing Arts Center. Featuring students from the finest piano studios in the area, these young performers are sure to knock your socks off!

April 14- 6:30pm

Rock and Roll Recital at
Windsor Hall

Featuring performances by the Cumberland Rock School and the Tri-State Glee Singers, this open mic style performance will allow students to play in a more informal setting and combine with other students and friends to try new pieces and formats. Performances are free and open to the public.

April 17- 2:30pm

Formal Recital at
Windsor Hall

Students will be performing the more "traditional" end of the semester recital. Featuring pianists, singers, guitarists and more. Performances are free and open to the public.
